OPTIONAL PROVISIONS

1. Authority: The manner in which the company formed under these articles (the "Company") conducts its business and affairs, the duties and authority of its Members and Managers and the rights and obligations of its Members and Managers to the extent not expressly required by and provided for in the Georgia Limited Liability Company Act, O.C.G.A. §§ 14-11-100 et seq. (the "Act"), shall be set forth in the operating agreement of the Company (the "Operating Agreement") adopted by the initial Members and Managers of the Company. Said Operating Agreement may from time to time be amended in accordance with the provisions contained therein. 2. Management: Management of the Company is vested in one or more managers who shall have exclusive authority to act for the Company in all matters. The authorities and duties of the Managers shall be set forth in the Operating Agreement. 3. Transferability of Interest: The Operating Agreement includes limitations and restrictions on the right of a Member to transfer an ownership interest in the Company. These restrictions apply to the transfer of voting rights and distribution rights. 4. Objects and Purposes: The nature of the business and the objects and purposes for which the Company is organized are to carry on and engage in and conduct any lawful business or investment activities, and exercise all of the powers, rights and privileges which a limited liability company organized under the Act may have and exercise. 5. Duration: The Company shall exist for a perpetual duration from the effective date of these Articles of Organization and shall continue from year to year until the Company is liquidated and dissolved according to the voting requirements then prescribed in the Operating Agreement. To the extent that the Company inadvertently forfeits its status as a Limited Liability Company under Georgia law, the Company will nonetheless continue as a general partnership and shall be subject to the applicable requirements of the Operating Agreement, and the Act until such time as it is reconstituted as a Limited Liability Company under the laws of the State of Georgia. 6. Superiority of Articles of Organization: In the event of any conflict between a provision of these Articles of Organization and a provision of the Operating Agreement of the Company, the provision of these Articles of Organization shall govern. 7. Additional Contributions: Additional contributions to the Company shall be made at such times and in such amounts as may be provided in the Company's written Operating Agreement. 8. Additional Members: A unanimous vote of all Members of the Company is required to admit new Members. The Company shall have the right to admit additional Members to the Company in accordance with the terms and conditions, which shall be set forth in the Company's Operating Agreement. Any Member who is subsequently admitted as a Member of the Company shall have all of the rights and obligations of a Member under the Operating Agreement. Any transferee of a Member's Interests in the Company shall be treated as an Assignee until such time as that transferee is admitted as an Additional or Substitute Member, if ever, in accordance with the terms of the Operating Agreement.
